UNEMPLOYED BARRED FROM CAPITOL

CONGRESS CONVENED IN IMPORTANT SESSION

JOBLESS MARCHERS REACH WASHINGTON AS CONGRESS OPENS

PLAN DEMAND UNEMPLOY- MENT INSURANCE FROM NATION'S LAWMAKERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Fifteen hundred demonstrators marched back and forth on Pennsylvania avenue today and found both the White House and capital doors barred against them.

Singing the "Internationale" and chanting slogans calling for unemployed insurance, they paraded under a police escort and found other armed bluecoats awaiting them at either end of the avenue.

At the capitol, their representatives were twice repulsed in efforts to gain the senate floor to demand unemployment insurance. Sergeant-at-Arms Barry informed Herbert Benjamin, their leader, that today was not the day for receiving petitions and that they would have to be presented through a member.

They were pushed off the capitol steps when they persisted in their demand and sought to walk inside.

Jeering Senator King of Utah, who volunteered to take charge of their petition or introduce any bills for them, they then went to the White House and refused to give a petition to Richard Jervis, chief of the White House secret service, who had agreed to deliver it to President Hoover.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Lustily singing the communist hymn, 1500 demonstrators marched to the capitol today bearing banners demanding unemployment insurance.

A police escort went with them, smoothing their way through the crowds that lined Capitol plaza but on the alert for any trouble that might come.

ITALIAN MEMBER OF YOUNG PLAN IS NAMED PRESIDENT

COMMITTEE MEETS TO CON- SIDER GERMANY'S CAPAC- ITY PAY REPARATIONS

BASEL, Switzerland, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Alberto Beneduce of Italy today was elected president of the Young plan advisory committee studying Germany's capacity to pay reparations.

The seven committee members selected him after Walter W. Stewart, the American representative, had declined the nomination. A proposal to elect Mr. Stewart, it was understood, was opposed by the French delegation.

After selecting the chairman, the committee chose four additional members, as it is empowered to do under the Young plan. They are Hendrik Colijn of Holland; Otto Rydbeck of Sweden; M. Bind-schelder of Switzerland and M. Durisch of Yugoslavia.

Then the committee adjourned to await the arrival of the Swiss and Swedish representatives. M. Colijn and M. Durisch already were here.

Signor Beneduce's selection was a compromise after Mr. Stewart had declined the nomination and the committee had been unable to agree on Emile Francqui, the Belgian.

Mr. Stewart's refusal was interpreted as an indication that Washington prefers to remain aloof on the reparations question, in the spirit of the commu que which followed the recent meeting between President Hoover and Premier Laval of France.

Last Bayles Smile

The triumphant smile that Lowell Bayles is wearing in this picture, made as he landed after his record-breaking speed flight at Detroit, Mich. faded forever when he was instantly killed in an effort to set a new speed record at Detroit Saturday. Bayles' plane crashed while going at high speed.

AIRPLANES BOMB CHINESE TOWN IN OFFENSIVE ATTACK

THREE HUNDRED REPORT- ED KILLED IN RAID; BAN- DITS SCATTERED

TOKYO, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Reports from Mukden, Manchuria, that about 300 Chinese were killed when Japanese airplanes bombed Kung-tapiu, in the southwest, were confirmed in a dispatch the Foreign Office (Japanese) news agency today, which reached here as authoritative quarters admitted Mukden headquarters was planning a new campaign in the direction of Chin-chow.

The bombing near Kung-tapiu took place yesterday, the dispatch said, and the Chinese killed were banded.

MURRAY SEEKS TO APPEAR BEFORE HIGH COURT MAKE FIGHT FOR HIS REFORMS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Governor W. H. Murray sought today to carry his fight for a special election on four of his seven initiative measures before the supreme court, personally as his opponent, to ask the court to restrain him from carrying out the election, called for Dec. 18, by the governor.

In a formal petition, the governor solicited the court to permit him to appear before it "specially" that he might "disclose my viewpoint of the law, fundamental and constitutional, which precludes any interference by any branch of the state government with such an election."

Attorneys for the Citizens' League, opposing the governor's program of initiative reforms, plan to ask the court to issue a writ of prohibition to restrain the secretary of the state election board and the state auditor from printing or paying for ballots until the court has disposed of the protests against sufficiency of the initiative petitions. The hearing on the protests is set to begin next Wednesday.

Murray's petition recounted his legal qualifications, that he was licensed to practice law in Texas, Oklahoma and before the supreme court of the United States, but added he was not and did not intend to become a member of the bar association of Oklahoma. He claimed the privilege of appearing personally before the court "because all questions concerning the election, made and called by the governor, is under and by virtue of the authority of the governor."

OIL AND COTTON DRAW GOVERNOR'S ATTENTION TODAY

RETURNS FROM DEER HUNT TO FIND OLD PRO- BLEMS WAITING

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Governor Ross S. Sterling said today he believed governors of the cotton states who had not fallen in line with Texas' acreage reduction law would take care of the situation without any suggestions from him.

He indicated he would not accede to a request contained in a resolution adopted by a mass meeting of Central Texas farmers in Waco Saturday that he ask chief executives of the recalcitrant states to call their legislatures and submit cotton acreage reduction.

"Word I had from the Jackson, Miss., conference, held recently, indicated that the states that had not acted would do so in due time," Governor Sterling said. "I see no reason why I should threaten them. I do not believe in agitating the subject. Let's let well enough alone. Texas farmers asked for the cotton acreage law and the legislature gave it to them, so why talk about it and write about it?"

He said he would take some action "in the next day or two" to reduce production in the East Texas oil field below the 400,000 barrel allowable set as the aggregate limit for that area.

Asked if he planned to make an acreage basis of production effective, he replied he was working on "something" but had not completed it.

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling returned today from a deer hunt on his ranch near Laredo to find his old friends, oil and cotton, awaiting his attention. East Texas oil field allowable had exceeded 400,000 barrels daily and he was expected to renew his rescinded military order reducing the per well production.

Fire at Powell Monday Burned Two Businesses

POWELL, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A filling station and hamburger stand owned by Elmer Corbett was completely destroyed by fire Monday morning. The loss was estimated at $10,000 and the fire was said to have started from a fuse.

The Corsicana fire department assisted in bringing the fire under control and prevented the flames from spreading to adjoining buildings. (Continued on Page 3.)

Garners Dress Game Today As Any Other Day

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Election of a speaker for the house of representatives today couldn't change the simplicity in clothing of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Garner of Texas.

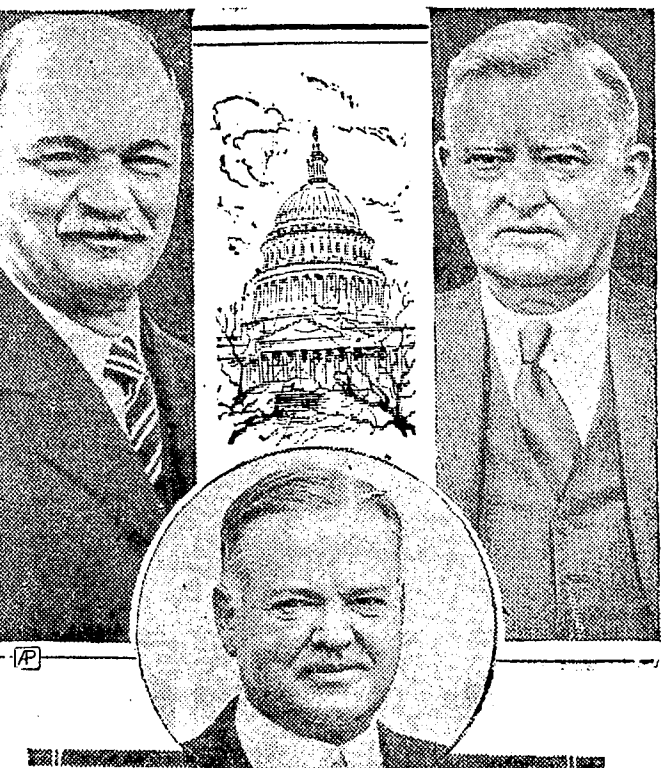

Garner, the choice of democrats for the post, has a new cut-away coat—but he didn't wear it. Instead, he had on the usual brown suit with a speckled brown tie.

Mrs. Garner said she was "wearing the same kind of things I wear to the office every day." That was a plain black dress of satin-backed tulle with a white collar. Pearl beads were around her neck.

Somebody asked Mrs. Garner this morning if "Jack" would wear his cut-away.

"Would that be John Garner?" she answered. "It would not. The only time he'll wear that is when the occasion absolutely demands."

Officers of Seventy-Second Congress

When the seventy-second session of congress convened at noon Monday a variety of baffling problems faced the closely divided legislative bodies of the United States. President Hoover (below) is placed in a difficult position as the result of democratic control of the house and the close division in the senate. John N. Garner of Texas, upper right) was elected speaker of the house. Vice-president Curtis (left) is the presiding officer of the senate.

RIVERS-HARBORS ESTIMATES SHAVED BY FIFTEEN MILLION

TOTAL OF SIXTY MILLION DOLLARS ASKED FOR NEXT FISCAL YEAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Reduced by one-fifth from their original figure, estimates of money needed for river and harbor work during the next fiscal year came to congress today calling for $60,000,000.

Fifteen million dollars were removed from the original $75,000,000 request Major-General Lytle Brown sent to the budget bureau. Most individual projects of the country will be curtailed a little to accomplish the reduction.

Army engineers, however, expect lower costs of labor and materials to make up about half of the amount sliced.

For flood control work, which is separate from rivers and harbors, the engineers asked $35,000,000, $3,000,000 less than was given for this fiscal year. The budget bureau trimmed the figure to $32,000,000 with which army engineers said they could accomplish the work assigned to the next fiscal year under the ten-year program.

The total that came to congress for river and harbor work was the same as allocated for this year. The figures arrived on capitol hill before the senate and house had time to get down to business and were set aside to wait their turn.

SEVEN HUNDRED MEXICAN MINERS AND FAMILIES AT BRIDGEPORT IN DIRE NEED

FORT WORTH, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Threatened out of work by the closing of coal mines at Bridgeport, 40 miles north of here, about 700 Mexican laborers and their families were reported suffering today from hunger and lack of proper clothing there.

Rev. G. A. Walls, pastor of the Mexican Presbyterian church and superintendent of the Mexican mission here, was negotiating with the American Red Cross and the Mexican government to obtain relief. He expected to visit Bridgeport today to estimate the cost of transportation to the border.

"During the last year these people have worked on an average of two days out of each week," Mr. Walls said. "They received no pay whatever in November but were promised some money—about 50 cents on the $1 by December 7."

The mines were closed November 23, Mr. Walls said some of the Mexicans had obtained credit from Bridgeport stores at the rate of 25 cents on the $1 but that the majority were badly in need of food and clothing.

He also found that about 40 per cent of the Mexicans want to return to their native country. Many, however, were born and reared at Bridgeport and are American citizens. They can not and have no desire to go to Mexico.

The Mexican mission here is supported by the community chest. Mr. Walls said he and other welfare workers feel they must help the Mexicans in Bridgeport before they come to Fort Worth, realizing that the deprivations will be as great in the city as they are in Bridgeport, and that their coming will put an additional burden on local agencies.

The situation has been referred to the Red Cross organization at Decatur.

TENSE SITUATION FACES LAWMAKERS; LARGE TASK AHEAD

GARNER NAMED SPEAKER HOUSE BY DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY AT OPENING

BY BYRON PRICE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—With its leaders divided and uncertain, the new congress saw its two constituent branches part company politically at the first session today, the democrats taking control of the house as the republicans retained their hold on the senate.

John Garner, a blunt and ready Texas plainsman, was chosen speaker of the house by the margin of a handful of votes over Bertrand Snell of New York. It was the first time in 12 years the democrats had captured either branch of congress.

In the senate trouble was brewing for the narrow republican majority, but it did not appear at today's half-hour session.

By BYRON PRICE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The new seventy-second congress convened today tense with pent-up political dissension but sobered by the magnitude of the legislative task ahead.

Just at noon, the sharp rap of the gavel, like the crack of a whip, called a Republican senate and a Democratic house into a session which faces as its chief problem the working out of a program of economic relief.

While prayer and solemn ceremony were ushering the session in, an extra police guard stood outside the capitol where a crowd of several hundred unemployed men assembled to petition for jobs and legislation.

The house was the major attraction. There a newly-elected Democratic majority allied to elect John N. Garner, Texas speaker over the Republican, Bertrand Snell of New York.

In the senate, with Vice President Curtis presiding, the meeting was for a few minutes only, devoted to inducing new members to accept the appointment of routine committees.

Thousands of bills were introduced, but most of them never will be heard of again. The major pieces of legislation await President Hoover's message tomorrow.

May Contest Harbour
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Possibility of a contest against admitting Warren Barbour, republican of New Jersey, to the senate arose today as Senator Pittman, democratic Nevada, discussed with members of an election sub-committee whether the gov-

RUSSIAN FIVE-YEAR PLAN HAS FALLEN BEHIND IN SOME RESPECTS; HARD JOB

Gavels Ready In Case Congress Is Hard to Control

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Somebody thought there was going to be a lot of wear and tear on gavels in the house today—the capitol shop turned out half a dozen for the opening session.

But John Garner of Texas had on his own ready to use when the speakership was decided in his favor. It is made of holly mesquite, a tree native to his home state, and presented to him by friends in the West.

Representative Snell of New York, the republican nominee for speaker, had made no advance decision as to what gavel he would use if by chance elected.

UNION LABOR OF RAIL LINES OPEN WAGE CUT SESSION

ATTENTION ENTIRE RAIL- WAY WORLD FOCUSED ON CHICAGO MEET

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The problem of reduced wages was laid aside today as executives of the leading railway unions considered plans for shorter working hours.

They labor chiefs who were to decide this week whether to accept a 10 per cent wage cut for a year, met in a secret session but it was announced the subject for discussion was not the rail executives' proposal.

That problem will be taken up Wednesday in a meeting of 1500 general union chairman, the leaders said, and until then the principal topic will be stabilization of employment, the spreading of work and particularly shorter work days.

The impending emergency question cast a noticeable shadow over the meeting.

TEXAN SELECTED TO PRESIDE OVER NATIONAL HOUSE

GARNER IS VICTOR OVER SNELL IN CONTEST SPEAK- ERSHIP AT OPENING

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Cherishing democrats, returned to legislative power after more than a decade of defeats, took control of the new house today and elected John N. Garner speaker.

Showing an impressive solidarity, the party organization gave the Texan 218 votes to 207 by the republicans for Snell of New York.

Representative Schneider, Wisconsin, received five-four from republican independent colleagues and one from Kvale of Minnesota, lone farmer-labor member. Garner and Snell voted present.

Before Garner went to the speaker's table to take the oath, Representative Snell turned to him with words of praise.

"The gentleman from Texas, by native ability, by outstanding personality, by long service and a complete understanding of the duties and responsibilities of speaker," he said, "is exceptionally well qualified to fill that position and I predict he will make one of the great speakers of the present generation."

As the New Yorker handed over the gavel, the members arose and hailed the new speaker.

Expressing appreciation, Mr. Garner said a legislative program would be presented later.

Representative Paul of North Carolina, dean of the democrats, then administered the oath of office.

The speaker in turn administered the oath of office to the entire membership at once.

He recalled that his friend, the late Speaker Longworth, instituted that method in the last congress. The democratic slate of house officers was elected on a viva voce vote.

ADOLPH HITLER IS NOT READY PRESENT ECONOMIC REFORMS

MAINTENANCE GOLD STAND- ARD DEPENDS LARGELY ON FRANCE

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Adolph Hitler, Germany's fascist national socialist leader, is not ready to announce the economic reforms he expects his party to carry out if it comes into power, but the question of maintaining the gold standard, he said, will depend largely on the attitude of France.

Nor does he plan a march on Rome similar to the march on Rome. Premier Mussolini's black-shirt band a decade ago when the Italian fascists took over the helm of Italy.

Instead of a coup d'etat, he indicated, he depends on the national socialist to be invested with the governing power by way of the ballot box, in elections to choose members of the reichstag.

"The enemies of Nazi-ism are dying of starvation, politically speaking," he said last night. "That is, their adherents are dwindling while ours steadily increase. Wherever elections are held, we land on top. Only at Breslau in the university elections 75 per cent of the votes were national socialist."

"March on Berlin? Nonsense!" Asked about whether he would favor abolition of the gold standard, he vigorously and reflectively rubbed his chin.

"Let me make this general observation," he said. "The question of the gold standard depends much on the attitude of France as the strongest European gold power. If France insists on drawing to itself all the gold and disgorging it only on the basis of political 'hold-up' ideas, I can well conceive of a united front in the rest of the world to abandon the standard and select some other there will be many changes. The laws, he said, who take the helm."

FIGHT FOR TARIFF ON PETROLEUM TO BE VIGOROUSLY WAGED

HOUSE AND SENATE WILL FACE IMPORTANT ISSUE EARLY IN SESSION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Amid the usual echoes of the coming of congress today surged the growing clamor for a tariff on oil at this session.

Scarcely will the members of the house and senate settle down to their tasks again before the campaign for petroleum duties will be swirling about them.

Congressional proponents of the tariff gathered here optimistic over their chances for success after vigorous but losing drives last year and the year before. Bills were expected immediately.

By the Oklahoma democratic delegation of the house, tariff sponsors will be actively engaged in that branch while in the senate, Oklahoma, Texas and at least one California will be busy.

Thomas of Oklahoma, democrat and Shortridge, the California republican, will be among those in the senate advocating or fighting for petroleum duties.

Shorridge and Connally, Texas democrats, said they will vote for a tariff.

Forces of the Independent Petroleum association will be just as busy if not more so in pressing their persistent plea for a tariff, their campaign, led by Wirt Franklin of Tulsa and Ardmore, Oklahoma, and R. B. Brown, secretary, will seek a $1 a barrel levy on crude oil and 50 per cent ad valorem on refined products.

The well-being of approximately 22,000,000 persons in the oil states was vitally affected.

Rivers-Harbors

turn before the house appropriations committee that must yet be organized.

Early as these estimates under-appropriated. The last congress river and harbor appropriations exceeded $30,000,000 for the current year.

Mr. Gen. Lytle Brown, busy chief of vast engineering projects, submitted the figures on what he could use profitably in the fiscal year beginning next July 1 on plans it is estimated will cost $210,951,575 to complete.

Carry Much Commerce.

To sustain his position he said that these harbors and waterways which dot the country's coast lines and enmesh its inland rivers and lakes bore 1,107,842,523 tons of commerce in 1930. Already they have cost the nation $883,259,919.

For the great inland waterways, including the Mississippi river system and the Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, and lesser systems, Brown asked $25,431,500. For Atlantic coast harbors and channels he requested $10,855,100; for the Pacific coast $4,514,850.

Eventually these estimates will reach the House in the annual Army appropriation bill—specially classified as "non-military items." Then after the gauntlet of legislative scrutiny, actual cash will begin to reach the hands of Brown's thousands of workers.

Harbors and channels on the Gulf Coast were allotted $3,088,500. The Great Lakes system would be given $7,333,400. Canals along the coasts from Boston to Corpus Christi, Texas, would take $7,209,300.

New York Gets Much.

The Port of New York and surrounding waters, including New York Bay, would get $2,893,400. Delaware river and Trenton through Philadelphia to the sea $2,250,000; Baltimore harbor and channels, $640,000; Savannah harbor $447,000 and Mobile harbor $300,000.

On the Mississippi river system Brown would spend $25,030,000. This includes: $2,675,000 from the mouth of the Ohio to the Illinois river; $4,545,000 between the Illinois and Minneapolis; $4,900,000 for the Illinois river; $6,663,000 for the Missouri river; $3,620,000 for the Ohio river; $700,000 for the Monongahela river and $1,545,000 for the Kanawha river.

On the Pacific, San Francisco harbor would receive $445,000; Monterey harbor $245,000 and Honolulu harbor $410,000.

To the Great Lakes system connecting channels $3,273,900 was allotted, including $1,234,000 for the Detroit river.

CONTRACT EXPECTED BE AWARDED TO PAVE ROAD NEAR WORTHAM

Contract for the pavement of the three-mile stretch of Highway 14 from the Navarro-Freestone to the Freestone-Limestone county lines, in the vicinity of Wortham, is expected to be awarded by the State highway commission at its January meeting. J. W. Alger, resident state highway engineer, stated Monday.

The State maintenance department has received orders to place the sand cushion, at least inches deep, on this three miles, Mr. Alger said. This eight-inch cushion is calculated by engineers to prevent the distortion or buckling of the pavement; as was encountered in pavement in Limestone county north of Mexia where similar soil conditions are found.

The company having the contract for the pavement from Richland to the Navarro-Freestone county line north of Wortham of this highway is expected to begin pouring concrete this week if weather conditions permit. Headquarters for this construction crew is maintained at Richland.

If the Wortham strip of three miles is awarded by the highway commission in January, it is believed that strip will be completed by the time the northern section to Richland is finished. Where two portions of Highway 14 completed, an 18-foot highway is available from Mexia to Wortham where it will tie in with foot slab of National Highway 14.

Allred Probes Activities C. C. Of Port Arthur

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Attorney General James W. Allred revealed today that an investigation from his department was in Port Arthur conducting a general investigation pertaining to the oil ouster suits recently filed against 15 major oil companies.

Asked if the investigator was inquiring into the interest taken in the suits by the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce, Allred said he would not deny that activities of the Port Arthur Chamber were under investigation.

The Port Arthur Chamber passed a resolution expressing opposition to the attorney general's suits against the oil companies. Two of the largest refineries in Texas are located in Port Arthur.

"When several chambers of commerce passed resolutions against Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma during his campaign, he charged they were being subsidized," Allred states. "I just want to see what the interest of the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce is and why they should be trying a case that the people have said should be tried in the courts."

net, who slumped out of the car dead.

Fourier, a mild-mannered man but noted for his fearlessness, was charged with murder and released on $10,000 bond.

On Barnett's body was a .45 caliber automatic pistol. In his automobile were two Winchester rifles and a sawed-off shot gun.

During the oil boom days in Reagan county several years ago, Barnett served as a deputy sheriff. He also was a marshal and special officer in other towns.

Barnett killed Will Rabb at Langtry when only 18 years old. He was tried and acquitted. He also was acquitted for the fatal shooting of "Noisy" Watson in 1925 in Reagan county.

Barnett made a reputation as an expert marksman when only a youth. During his years of following hazardous pursuits he had several close calls and thrilling experiences.

The dead man's body was shipped to Alpine. Barnett was survived by his widow, his mother, and five children.

The El Paso Times quoted Sheriff Fowler as intimating that a financial disagreement caused the shooting.

Sheriff Fowler, the Times said, stated he and Barnett Friday talked over a loan Barnett desired to make of the sheriff.

"I declined to advance Barnett the money he requested and he became angry," Fowler was quoted as saying.

That was the only intimation of the cause of the trouble.

PRECIPITATION PROMISED SPREAD OVER MOST OF STATE ON MONDAY

(By The Associated Press)

Steady rains soaked Southern and Central Texas last night and promised to cover the rest of the state today.

The weather bureau forecast unsettled weather over the entire state. Occasional rains were anticipated in the eastern half. Precipitation in the western section was regarded as a probability.

In the last 24 hours Austin had .56 inch rain. Brownsville .66, Corpus Christi .58, Del Rio .35, Galveston 1.10, Houston .32, Port Arthur .40, San Antonio .32, Laredo .2, and Fairburn .1.

Moderate temperatures, with possibility of a slight rise, were forecast.

Rains 48 Hours at Austin.

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Forty-eight hours of almost continuous steady rain totaled .85 of an inch by the United States weather bureau gauge here today. The minimum temperature was 46 degrees. The thermometer reading showed little variance from that figure during the past 12 hours.

One and one-fourth inches of rain was reported from Mudd, a point 15 miles up the Colorado river.

WOMAN CONFESSES LEADING PART IN ROBBERY OF BANK

TIFFIN, O., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Hazel Bullard, 31, mother of two children, confessed today she led three men in the $2,061 holdup of the Bettsville Banking Company at Bettsville Saturday.

The woman also revealed the hiding place of the money and of the guns which the bandits used. Under a rain barrel at the home of John Wilcox, who admitted having plotted the robbery, according to Flynn, were found $300 in new bills.

Alva Wilcox, 23, John's son, and John Terry, 43, who also were held with Mrs. Bullard, denied having taken part in the holdup.

TREASURY SEEKS TO BORROW LARGE SUM FROM PEOPLE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The treasury wants to borrow $1,300,000,000.

This amount of securities, Secretary Mellon announced last night, will be offered December 15. It is the fourth time this year the treasury has been in the market for more than a billion dollars.

Most of the money—$1,090,000,000—will be used to pay off debts. The remainder will go to current expenses.

The offerings will consist of $600,000,000 of one-year 3-1/4 per cent treasury notes, $300,000,000 in 2-3/4 per cent six-month treasury certificates and $400,000,000 in 3 per cent nine-month certificates of indebtedness.

The fact the issues are for short terms was viewed as indicating officials believed long-term borrowings would not be necessary and that the amount could be paid off a year hence due to improved business conditions.

Legislation to increase taxes was expected to be among the most important subjects considered by congress. The deficit last year was $303,000,000. For five months and three days of the present fiscal year the deficit has mounted to $356,397,587.

Several other girls were reported slightly injured, but were not taken to the hospital.

Mrs. W. T. McFadden is in Dallas with her sister, Mrs. Willie Martin. Mrs. Martin is reported seriously ill.

RENEWAL PASSIVE RESISTANCE PLANNED THROUGHOUT INDIA

BERHAMPORE, Bengal, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Renewal of the passive resistance campaign against the British government was foreshadowed today following a resolution adopted by the Bengal provincial conference of the national congress last night, declaring the time has come to resume the campaign and the boycott.

The boycott was urged against foreign cloth, British goods, banks, insurance companies and shipping lines.

NEW DELHI, India, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The council of the All-India Muslim League was on record today as expressing dissatisfaction with the failure of the British government to announce a decision on the safeguarding of Moslem rights in India.

LUCKNOW, India, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Local district committees of the congress of the united provinces have been authorized by an agrarian sub-committee to begin a non-violent campaign immediately.

The sub-committee is headed by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. Following the action, which was taken yesterday, Nehru left for district of Rae Bareilly and other members of the sub-committee went to Bara Banki to hold other meetings.

The district committees are located at Rae Bareilly, Tawab, Cawnpore and Unao.

Fishing Parties Rescued From Bay By Coast Guards

GALESTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Coast guards rescued two fishing parties from disabled motor boats in West Galveston bay last night.

They found G. W. Stedman, C. L. Erikson and T. L. Lewis of Houston huddled together in a tiny boat. The engine had gone dead and left them to be tossed about by the waves. The men were suffering from cold and exposure.

Later they rescued J. P. Collison, M. J. Myers and E. H. Seale of Galveston from a barren shell reef where they had managed to land after their boat's motor stopped. The men were grouped around a driftwood fire.

Monday Set Aside For Conferences By Rail Commission

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Texas railroad commission today voted to set aside Monday of each week for regular conferences.

C. V. Terrell, chairman, said the action was taken "so that citizens of Texas and persons from other states having business with the commission may know just when they can confer with the entire commission," and that the commission may be in closer touch with internal operations of the different departments over which it has supervision.

It was decided that in case any member of the commission is absent and unable to be present, the other two members may dispose of and all matter coming before the conference.

from 125 barrels to 110 barrels daily. A petition, drawn by a mass meeting of Central Texas farmers in Waco Saturday, requesting that he urge cotton growing states which had not done so to fall in line with Texas' law making it unlawful for a farmer to plant more than 30 per cent of his 1931 tillable area in cotton for 1932 also awaited his disposition.

Governor Sterling a week ago announced he would reduce the East Texas allowable to 110 barrels per well effective last Wednesday, but a few hours later changed his mind. He said he had postponed making it effective on account of "inclement weather and for other reasons."

In the interim, new completions boosted the aggregate allowable to beyond the maximum fixed for the field.

The cotton farmers pointed out that only Texas, Arkansas and Mississippi had curtailed cotton acreage and asked the chief executive to urge the other cotton growing states to enact similar legislation prior to Jan. 10. Unless the governors of the lagging states should call their legislatures by Dec. 20, the regulations urged by the Texas governor to convene his legislature for the purpose of repealing the curtailment statute.

Governor Sterling recently expressed opposition to legislative session to repeal the cotton law.

Cotton Acreage Cut Must Be Drastic

DALLAS, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A. S. Lever of Columbia, S. C., declared today that the 1932 cotton crop in the South must undergo a reduction of 40 per cent in order to prevent further lowering of the cotton price level. He estimated 25,000,000 acres.

The special farm board representative told some 100 Texas agricultural leaders, meeting here as guests of the Dallas Agricultural club, that an increased surplus of cotton would result unless the crop was reduced.

He commended the efforts being made in Texas and other Southern states to legislate a cut in cotton acreage. One solution of the problem of utilizing land affected by the acreage reduction plan, he said, would be to produce commodities which have been imported in past years.

Lever was co-author, while a member of congress, of the Smith-Lever bill which authorized the expansion of facilities and privilege in land grant colleges, to permit them to support agricultural and home economic extension work for the public.

SUPREME COURT REFUSES REVIEW FOR TEXAS CASE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Matching the senate in the shortness of its session, the supreme court adjourned today after passing upon several petitions for review before it. They included:

Refused: The dispute by the Superior Mould Cookware corporation of Chicago of the refusal of the lower federal courts to enjoin certain of its former employees from working for competitors in western Texas.

The corporation, manufacturers of aluminum cook-ware to cook food without water, schooled agents and had them sign a contract in which they agreed that for one year after leaving its employ, they would not engage in any way in the sale of aluminum cook-ware within a radius of 100 miles of any city or community in which the company operated.

Alleging that James E. Hamill, George L. Hill, and Melvin T. Jones of San Antonio, Alfred T. Jones or Genoa, and E. G. Bartlett, James C. Randolph, Cecil C. Jones and W. Henry Wickline and Melvin F. Withrow of Houston had, as employees, signed such contracts, but had, within a year after leaving its employ, secured the employ of a competitor, the corporation asked the federal district court for western Texas to enjoin them.

The court refused to grant the injunction and was sustained by the fifth circuit court of appeals. The company contended the ruling was in conflict with the decision of the seventh circuit court of appeals, which had by injunction, enjoin the restrictive covenants of the contracts of employment.

Texas Wolf and Fox Hunters Association Holding Annual Meet

CAMP REYNARD, Polk County, Texas, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A derby race for hound puppies began today as one of the feature events of the 39th annual hunt of the Texas Wolf and Fox Hunters association here.

Every hunter and spectator in camp arose at dawn and watched fifty hounds take the trail. Nearly all the owners rode with the eight judges and the spectators walked out to hear the first of the hounds as they picked up the trail.

There will be three days of competitive hunting. The entrants will have numbers painted on their sides.

No dog ever has won the championship of the meet twice in a season, but Carry Cochran's Slow Drag was favored by many to repeat his victory of last year over the open field at the age of 18 months. Slow Drag, though a puppy, must enter the all-age field.

The rain yesterday had stopped today, and conditions were ideal for the chase.

JUST FOLKS

FEAR.

The great god Fear grinned back

at me;

"I am the foe men never see,"

The hurt they never feel," said he.

I am the wrong they never bear,

The poison they themselves prepare,

I am the shadow on the stair.

I have no voice and yet I speak;

No strength and yet I blanch the

cheek.

And leave the strongest mortals

weak.

I am the blackguard man believed,

Heeds most, feeds, cherishes, attends

And 'gainst all counsel wire de-

fends.

I fire no gun, I make no cry,

No lodging place in fact have I,

Yet I'm the countless deaths men

die.

"Mine is a humor ghastly grim,

The lamp of reason I can dim,

Though I am nothing but a whim.

I am man's cruellest, bitterest foe,

Yet past his door I could not go,"

Had he the wit to tell me: "No,"

MUSIC

If you listen, you will

hear a strange, sweet music

in life. Sit in your arm

chair alone in a room, and

listen to the clock. Listen

to nothing else. Soon you will hear a simple rhythm.

The sound is not just one

tick after another, measured

and exact—but a regular

beat and flow of sound.

Listen to life everywhere

and you will hear that rhythm.

You cannot miss it if you really lean over and

cock your ear. Lie on your

back in the grass beneath

a tree. The sounds of the little people that live close

to the earth will make music. That green landscape

becomes a widespread symphony.

Look about you at the

lives of all the people you know. You will hear or

see that strange music. It

is not all discord, not all

a haphazard, higglety-pig-

glety of sound. It may be a light song, or it may be

a deeply tragic one, but

something is there for you

to hear—if you only will

wait a while—and use your

ears—and listen!

It is there and it is yours,

if you have but the patience

to seek it. It may amuse

and tickle you to laughter.

It may come crashing in

like those immense green

waves that thunder on our

ocean shores. But it is there in all our lives and

you cannot miss it.

MODERN ROME.

According to the Italian

census, just completed,

Rome has a population of

1,004,028, or about twice as many as in 1911. Detroit is the only American city

which has made a similar

gain in population in the same period. Something

has been happening in modern Rome to account for this

growth. Sixty years ago

Rome had a population of

only 226,000 and at the beginning of the last century

it was only about 170,000.

In the great days of the

Roman empire its capital

was the most popular city in the world. There are no exact figures, but the estimates

by historians place its population at 3,000,000. Mussoli-

ni has aroused in the modern Italians a feeling of pride in their ancient glories to replace their lost liberties, but the capital had

begun to grow in population

before he came into power.

BENGALS' POWER PROVED TOO MUCH FOR EAST TEXANS

MORE THAN 6,000 PEOPLE
SAW GAME PLAYED UNDER
IDEAL CONDITIONS

Corsicana Tigers' stock in the State Interscholastic League race took an upward trend on Tiger field Saturday afternoon when the Tyler Lions, defending state champions of 1930, were defeated, 19-0, while more than 6,000 cheering, fanatical and partisan fans looked on as the two mighty eleven-matched brains and strength. It was a cool, charging and crushing eleven, with perfect co-operation and co-ordination in play that baffled and swept the defending champions off their feet, and it was a determined and effective defense that stopped the Lions when they threatened to score.

The Bengals scored in the first period in what later proved the undoing of the Lions. Wilson, all state half-back of the Janglebeasts, a marked man, glided over the touchdown line for a try pass was executed in the shadow of the Tyler goal line.

The second touchdown came in the third period after the Tyler line had thrown Wilson for a loss following a series of plays. Crowther dropped back and pegged the ball into the arms of Mac Stewart for 10 yards and a touchdown, Stewart dragging tacklers over with him. The third and final marker came in the fourth stanza when Red Simpson, substitute fullback, viciously charged over the line and sped to a touchdown after momentarily juggling the ball.

Colorful Crowd Present.
It was a colorful crowd that witnessed the unfolding of the Tiger triumph; it was a partisan crowd with the Corsicans continuing on the north side, and the Tyler fans on the south; two bands vied in furnishing music for the occasion; and the two high school students who cheered their favorites to the echo.

Tyler players and fans were loud in their praise of the courtesy and hospitality of Corsicana citizens and numerous citizens, who declared they were treated better than ever before. The prowess of the Corsicana club was also praised highly by the fans of "The East Texas" and the Smith county fans are now squarely behind the Bengals to become champions and are pulling for Corsicana to proceed to the title.

Tyler's Star Players.
Outstanding performers for the Tyler club included Glass,ackle, Morris, half, and Hill, fullback. The Tigers and his play defensively was a brilliant exhibition of a scrapping youngster who refused to be taken out and who played his heart out in a losing battle. Hill, big fullback, was a powerful advance of the ball and his vicious thrusts caused the lighter Corsicana line to yield yardage time after time. This section was amply taken care of by Pollard, Tiger pivot man.

For Corsicana, the entire lineup and the substitutes played excellent games. The two wingmen were up to their usual standard, which is good, while Wilson and Crowther carried the brunt of the ground-gaining play. In the line, Bowlin and Green played a what on a defensive game. The line played a great game.

Corsicana Outweighed.
Outweighed pounds to the man, the Bengals matched running attack with the defending champions, and clearly excelled them in the aerial attack and in the punting department even in the first half of Crowther was blocked. The Tigers completed nine of 15 attempted passes for 120 yards, which is real passing in anyone's game. The Corsicans were defeated in three passes were completed for nine yards gain, eight were incomplete and two intercepted.

There were 2,500 Tyler fans and others from that section on the two special trains that arrived here over the Cotton Belt Lines about noon. The return trip was started about 6 o'clock. Many of the state newspapers of the state were represented by sport writers and this game was regarded as the outstanding bi-district melee.

With the winning of this game, the Tyler Lions will now oppose the Austin High Maroons, one of the semi-finalists in the 1930 race, in Corsicana Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, December 12. Arrangements for the quarter-final fight here were made at a meeting of officials of the two schools immediately following the conclusion of the game here Saturday.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE — Sun Sports Editor

Lucian Cole, local football enthusiast, sent the writer the probable district winners several days ago before the district championships were concluded and he missed only one in the 16, picking Highland Park to win the Dallas district flag. However, that is what we call picking pretty fair. He also picked the winners in the bi-districts—Lubbock, Abilene, Highland Park, Greenville, Corsicana, Austin, Beaumont and Corpus Christi. In the quarter-finals, he picked Lubbock, Highland Park, Corsicana, and Beaumont and then in the finals, Lubbock and Corsicana. He did not pick the winner in the championship battle.

John Hagler, Dallas, formerly assistant football coach at Corsicana High school, a rabid and close follower of the Bengals, was the more interested spectator for the game Saturday.

Bomber Frizzell, superintendent of the Palestine schools; M. K. Bachtel, coach, and M. P. Stiles, head of the Palestine schools, were spectators. Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the University of Texas Interscholastic League, also witnessed the melee.

The writer guessed on the outcome of eight games last week, picking five winners and three losers for a week's average of .625. For the season, there have been 303 guesses, 220 wins, 61 losses and 22 ties, for a season's record of .762.

Following are the correct scores, followed by the guesses:
McGregor 14, State Home 0; State Home 13-6, Corsicana 19, Tyler 19-0.

Austin Contest With Tigers Be Here Saturday

Arrangements were completed Saturday afternoon between representatives of the Austin and Corsicana High schools that will result in the quarter-final contest between the Maroons and Tigers being played on Tiger field next Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Austin was represented in the negotiations by Coach Donnie Strickland, C. H. Welch, high school principal, and J. H. Nash, member of the athletic council. Corsicana representatives included Beauford H. Jester, chairman of the athletic council, W. P. McCammon, president of school board, Superintendent W. H. Norwood, Principal G. F. Douglas, and Coach John A. Pierce and Jake Hanna.

It is believed that the tarpaulin borrowed from Texas A. & M. College will be ready to insure a dry field for the fray.

Tickets for the game will be 50 cents for students and $1 for adults.

PROPOSERS OIL TARIFF LINE UP FOR HARD BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(P)—Optimistic over their chances of success, senate proponents of an oil tariff are lining up for a vigorous fray at this session.

In an alliance with representatives of copper states, they hope to gain the margin of victory necessary to take oil from the free list and bring it under duty.

Senator Thomas, the Oklahoma democrat who waged unsuccessful last session a steady campaign for a tariff, is again at work, with other oil states' legislators.

Texas Want Measure.
Senators Sheppard and Connally, Texas democrats, are ready to vote any on any sound oil tariff.

Senator Sheppard, the California republican, already has a bill for $1 on crude oil and 50 percent ad valorem on refined products.

Over in the house, Oklahoma democrats are to meet today to gather closer their campaign lines. Kansas and Texas representatives are expected to join them on the oil tariff.

Meanwhile, the Independent Petroleum Producers' Association, through Russell Brown, secretary, has been about the capital, lining up supporters. Wirt Franklin, the president, who lives in Tulsa and Ardmore, is expected here tomorrow to take over direction of the foray.

Hope For Aid.
From the ranks of senatorial advocates of a petroleum tariff there came the expression of hope for aid from copper-state senators, such as Wheeler and Walsh of Montana and Ashurst and Hayden of Arizona, giving oil legislation a distinctly democratic flavor.

State leaders said the copper representatives were against an oil tariff last session, but believed an alliance would insure success of measures for a levy on both petroleum and copper.

Senator Thomas, outlining what he understood to be a tentative draft of the oil move sponsored by the independent producers, said he had for a time been at the outset, then a graduated

JUST FOLKS

FEAR.
The great god Fear grinned back
at me;
"I am the foe men never see,
The hurt they never feel," said he.
"I am the wrong they never bear,
The poison they themselves prepare.
I am the shadow on the stair.
"I have no voice and yet I speak;
No strength and yet I blanch the
cheek
And leave the strongest mortals
weak.
"I am the blackguard man be-
friends,
Heeds most, feeds, cherishes, attends
And 'gainst all counsel wire de-
fends.
"I fire no gun, I make no cry,
No lodging place in fact have I,
Yet I'm the countless deaths men
die.

"Mine is a humor ghastly grim,
The lamp of reason I can dim,
Though I am nothing but a whim.
"I am man's cruellest, bitterest foe,
Yet past his door I could not go,
Had he the wit to tell me: 'No,'"

MUSIC

If you listen, you will
hear a strange, sweet music
in life. Sit in your arm
chair alone in a room, and
listen to the clock. Listen
to nothing else. Soon you
will hear a simple rhythm.
The sound is not just one
tick after another, measured and exact—but a regular
beat and flow of sound.

Listen to life everywhere
and you will hear that rhythm. You cannot miss it if you really lean over and
cock your ear. Lie on your
back in the grass beneath
a tree. The sounds of the little people that live close
to the earth will make music. That green landscape
becomes a widespread symphony.

Look about you at the
lives of all the people you know. You will hear or
see that strange music. It
is not all discord, not all
a haphazard, higglety-pig-
glety of sound. It may be
a light song, or it may be
a deeply tragic one, but
something is there for you
to hear—if you only will
wait a while—and use your
ears—and listen!

It is there and it is yours,
if you have but the patience
to seek it. It may amuse
and tickle you to laughter.
It may come crashing in
like those immense green
waves that thunder on our
ocean shores. But it is
there in all our lives and
you cannot miss it.

MODERN ROME.

According to the Italian
census, just completed,
Rome has a population of
1,004,028, or about twice as many as in 1911. Detroit is
the only American city
which has made a similar
gain in population in the same period. Something
has been happening in modern Rome to account for this
growth. Sixty years ago
Rome had a population of
only 226,000 and at the beginning of the last century
it was only about 170,000.

In the great days of the Roman empire its capital
was the most popular city in the world. There are no exact figures, but the estimates
by historians place its population at 3,000,000. Mussoli-
ni has aroused in the modern Italians a feeling of pride in their ancient glories to replace their lost liberties, but the capital had
begun to grow in population
before he came into power.

Saddest of all sport
sights is a team known as the Crimson Holocaust being spilled by a back country eleven called the Pocket Gophers.

Everyone wondered why
it took a Tammany jobholder six years to amass $360,- 000 in banks until it turned out he was just the under-sheriff.

If Britain is sincere about wanting to frame a stiff tariff act, it could do no better than retain our Senator
Watson as consulting orator.

Hunt the bright side. If you had a few more friends
maybe they would borrow your money.

The most expensive thing
about a home is carelessness.

of his rules of "don't peep"
to use "before" Christmas
the same cheer, the same unselfishness, the same courtesy, the same thoughtfulness,
the same spirit of "giving happiness" that you will use on Christmas day.

Atlas!

BOUGHT SUGAR STOCK WITH NOTES.

The Senate Lobby Investigation Committee has been unable to find that either Senator Watson of Indiana,
the Majority Leader, or Senator Davis of Pennsylvania,
the former Secretary of Labor, did any lobbying for the sugar trust which succeeded in effecting an increase in the tariff rates embodied in the Smoot-Hawley bill.

Nevertheless, there has been a lot of speculation,
some amusement, some wise
grins, and some cynical headshaking over what Investigator Holland's inspection of the books of E. G.
Dahlberg's various sugar
companies disclosed.

Senator Watson's deals
were modest and moderate,
amounting in all to transactions involving approximately $25,000. He was the holder of 125 shares each of preferred and common stock
in the Southern and South Coast Sugar Companies. He was also the possessor of $5,000 of Dahlberg Corporation stock. This appears to have been shifted around so that the corporation records finally disclosed, in reply to an inquiry by Senator Watson as to "where he stood," that he had 500
shares of the Dahlberg Corporation. A peculiar feature of the transaction was that Senator Watson paid
no cash for any of this stock. He gave a note, which,
according to the correspondence unearched by the investigator, bore no interest, was not negotiable, was to be cancelled at any time the Senator wished and involved no liability beyond
stock it was supposed to pay for.

At one time the Indiana
Senator was $7,000 or $8,- 000 ahead on the deal, but like a good many other people, did not take his profits,
with the result that he is now able to make the statement that "the stock is of no account and worth nothing, and neither is my note."
Therefore the score is nothing to nothing in this game." The $5,000 transaction is hazily explained
by a memorandum in the records of one of the companies which reads as follows: "James E. Watson,
as you know, did a lot of work for us in connection with the Missouri rate matter."

The sugar stock promoters were kinder to Senator
Davis than to Senator Watson, for they let him have his stock at 90, whereas they charged Senator Watson 100—the open market

THE HIGH COST OF BAD ROADS.

An article in the November issue of the Bureau Farmer vividly shows the predicament of the average farmer in the matter of roads. The article says:
"Of 6,300,000 farmers in the United States, there are 2,- 747,732 farms on unimproved dirt roads, or almost one half of the farmers of this country are served by roads
no better than those of the ox cart days.

"An additional 1,998,704
farms are located on dirt roads that are ranked as improved, and that means roads that have some grading, some drainage, but nevertheless, during the rainy season are for the most part impassable. Not more than 500,000 farms are located on paved highways and less than 1,000,000 on gravel roads." The article is illustrated by pictures and by statistics demonstrating the high cost of unimproved roads to the farmer.

Every state owes its farmers roads that can be dependent upon to afford safe,
safe and inexpensive transport at all seasons of the year.

INDIANS OFFER UP THANKS WITHOUT AN APPEAL FOR RELIEF

SAN XAVIER DEL PAC, Ariz.,
Dec. 4.—(AP)—The Papago Indian,
whose adobe huts dot the fast-fading Southwest, has no complaint to make of the economic situation of the new year. At sundown today he will have finished a three-day fiesta—one of thanksgiving
for past favors and of prayer for continued benefices.

Perhaps it is because the Papago Indian's wants are few that this annual pilgrimage to the old,
weather-beaten mission of San Xavier Del Pac was one gathering year in which optimism
and thankfulness are keywords.

For three days stalwart braves
of the fast dying Papago tribe
have been gathered in the shade of the crumbling walls of the old mission building. Weird rites were performed, prayers were made and there were many pow-wows among the pilgrims. Talk centered about bountiful crops of the fall and the good times they insured for the tribe.

To the white man's God and to his own primitive guardian, Itol, known as "The Elder Brother," thanks were offered for the lack of famine and prayers were made that next year's crops may be as bountiful.

REPAIRING DETOUR
TEAGUE, Dec. 5.—(Sp.)—It is understood that the highway department had teams and scrapers
at work putting sand on the clay
detour around the Burlington-Rock Island underpass on Highway No.
7, one mile west of Teague. Due to the long continued spell of inclement weather, this detour became almost impassable for a time.

Sun want ads bring results.

ing of heart disease.

LATEST MODEL BY CHEVROLET SHOWN PUBLIC SATURDAY

NEW 1932 MODELS EMBODY
PRACTICALLY EVERY PROV-EN AUTOMOTIVE FEATURE

Embodying practically every proven automotive feature of recent years, the new 1932 Chevrolet model was unveiled Saturday morning in the show rooms of the E. W. Ellis company, Corsicana dealers, as a part of a nation-wide presentation. Two models of the new product were placed on display for the first time and drew large crowds of automobile lovers to the premiere.

Among the outstanding features of the new Chevrolet offering are silent synchro-mesh transmission
in combination with selective freewheeling, redesigned stream-lined bodies with many improvements and refinements, a 20 per cent increase in power, a higher top speed. Other features are down-draft carburetion, heavier con-balanced crank shaft, smaller wheels and larger tires, radically changed front end appearance, cowl ventilators, hood doors instead of levers, improved clutch, heavier differential, and a greatly strengthened frame.

Twelve standard body types and eight de luxe models are included in the new line, at prices almost identical with those of all models. A wide range of colors are available in the Fisher bodies.

In the new model, the fenders,
radiator and headlamps are carried on a single fender support unit, which is anchored to the center of the front cross member.
The motor is entirely mounted in rubber and is completely insulated
from the frame.

New Radiator Design
An entirely new radiator design graces the car, with a larger exposed area, and the grill is built into the radiator in all models. Front fenders have a deeper crown and skirts; hood, headlamps and cowl lamps all have been redesigned keeping with the extreme streamlining effect of the new lines, and all cars have
the new European style top, stamped of one-piece steel, with an interior vapor replacing the old "iron" arrangement.

The new power unit boasts 60 horsepower at 3000 revolutions per minute, which is capable of giving a top speed of 65 to 70 miles per hour. Many reinforcements have made the engine operation smoother. Lubrication to crank-shaft and camshaft have been changed from a splash feed to a force feed system. Improvements have been made in timing valve
openings, and compression ratio.

A cordial invitation was extended to the public to visit the show rooms of the E. W. Ellis company, Corsicana, on Saturday night and on Sunday for the benefit of those who desire to see the new Chevrolet, which is reputed to include more extensive changes than any model since the first six-cylinder product was brought out in 1928.

In a road test the new product displays unusually easy operation and control, and proves its right among the front ranks of the lighter automobile products.

BUSINESS DISTRICT IN HOLIDAY ATTIRE FOR CHRISTMAS DAYS

CAMPAIN TO BE STARTED
URGING DECORATIONS
RESIDENCE SECTION

Corsicana's downtown business
section assumed its pre-holiday
dress Friday night when a score of merchants turned on their electrical decorations on the exterior of their establishments for the first time. The number is expected to be considerably augmented
through the next few days.

Numbered stores on Beaton street were brilliantly lighted with many vari-hued globes. Friday night, while Main street presented a blaze of illumination for almost its entire length. Among the outstanding exhibits on Main street were the Daily Sun building, the city hall, and the Navarro Hotel.

For the entire length of the two main thoroughfares, thousands of dollars worth of Christmas merchandise was attractively displayed in show windows for the benefit of pedestrians and automobile window shoppers. Many took advantage of the occasion to complete their shopping lists from the gift suggestions presented by the merchants.

Preparations were under way
Saturday to intensify the efforts to secure decorations and displays in all of the vacant buildings in the business section. Plans were also rapidly nearing completion on the "check contest" to be launched on Dec. 10. All name suggestions for the contest must be sent in to the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce or be in the mails before midnight Saturday. The winner of the contest will be announced Monday.

A campaign will be started within the next few days to induce the residents of the city to put out their electrical displays about December 15, a week before Christmas Day.

BENGALS' POWER PROVED TOO MUCH FOR EAST TEXANS

MORE THAN 6,000 PEOPLE
SAW GAME PLAYED UNDER
IDEAL CONDITIONS

Corsicana Tigers' stock in the State Interscholastic league race took an upward trend on Tiger field Saturday afternoon when the Tyler Lions, defending state champions of 1930, were defeated, 19-0, while more than 6,000 cheering, frenzied and partisan fans looked on as the two mighty eleven's matched brains and strength. It was a cool, charging and crushing eleven, with perfect co-operation and co-ordination of play that baffled and swept the defending champions off their feet, and it was a determined and effective defense that stopped the Lions when they threatened to score.

The Bengals scored in the first period in what later proved the undoing of the Lions. Wilson, all state half-back of the Junglebeasts, with the Corn, gliding on to the touchdown after a triple pass executed in the shadow of the Tyler goal line.

The second touchdown came in the third period after the Tyler line had thrown Wilson for a loss followed by a sustained march. Crowther dropped back and pegged the ball into the arms of Mac Stewart for 10 yards and a touchdown. Stewart dragging tackle over with him. The third and final marker came in the fourth stanza when Red Simpson, substitute fullback, viciously charged over the line and sped to a touchdown after momentarily juggling the ball.

Colorful Crowd Present.
It was a colorful crowd that witnessed the unfolding of the Tiger triumph; it was a partisan crowd with the Corn, gliding on to the north side and the Tyler fans in the south; two bands vied in furnishing music for the occasion; and the two high school student bodies cheered their favorites to the echo.

Tyler players and fans were loud in their praise of the courtesy and hospitality of Corsicana citizens and numerous persons were heard to declare they were treated "better than ever before." The prowess of the Corsicana club was also praised highly by the fans of "The Herald of East Texas" and the Smith county fans who were lined up behind the Bengals to become champions and are pulling for Corsicana to proceed to the title.

Col. Carl Estes, editor of the Tyler "Herald of East Texas," telegraphed, declared as the game waned he was for Corsicana strong and predicted that the team to win the championship must down the Corsicana club.

Tyler's Star Players.
Outstanding performers for the Tyler club included Glass,ackle, Morris, half, and Hill, fullback. The Tigers and his play defensively was a brilliant exhibition of a scrapping youngster who refused to be taken out and who played his heart out in a losing battle. Hill, fullback, was a powerful advance of the ball and his vicious thrusts caused the lighter Corsicana line to yield yardage time after time. Johnson, center, took as an all-state performer, was amply taken care of by Pollard, Tiger pivot man.

For Corsicana, the entire lineup and the substitutes played excellent games. The line was up to their usual standard, which is good, while Wilson and Crowther carried the brunt of the ground-gaining play. Goodman, Bowlin and Green played a fine defensive game. The line played a great game.

Corsicana Outweighed.
Outweighed 10 pounds to the man, the Bengals matched running attack with the defending champions, and clearly excelled them in the aerial attack and in the punting department even if the first punting of Crowther was wide. The Tigers completed nine of 15 attempted passes for 120 yards, which is real passing in any one's game. Tyler's aerial attack was smooth and quick, while the passes were completed for nine yards gain, eight were incomplete and two intercepted.

There were 2,500 Tyler fans and others from the section on the special trains that arrived here over the Cotton Belt Lines about noon. The return trip was started about 6 o'clock.

Many of the leading newspapers of the state were represented by sport writers and this game was regarded as the outstanding bi-district melee.

With the winning of this game, the Tigers will now oppose the Austin High Maroons, one of the semi-finalists in the 1930 race, in Corsicana Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, December 12. Arrangements for the quarter-final tilt have been made at a meeting of officials of the two schools immediately following the conclusion of the game here Saturday.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE — Sun Sports Editor

Lucian Cole, local football enthusiast, sent the writer the probable district winners several days ago before the district championships were concluded and he missed only one in the 16, picking Highland Park to win the District flag. However, that is what we call picking pretty fair. He also picked the winners in the bi-districts: Lubbock, Abilene, Highland Park, Greenville, Corsicana, Austin, Beaumont and Corpus Christi. In the quarter-finals, he picked Lubbock, Highland Park, Corsicana, and Beaumont, and then the finals, Lubbock and Corsicana. He did not pick the winner in the championship battle.

John Hagler, Dallas, formerly assistant football coach at Corsicana High school, a rabid and close follower of the Bengals, was another interested spectator for the game Saturday.

Bonnie Frizzell, superintendent of the Palestine schools; M. K. Bachtel, coach, and M. D. Stewart, coach, to fill the bi-district seats, were spectators. Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the University of Texas Interscholastic League, also witnessed the melee.

The writer guessed on the outcome of eight games and three pickings of five winners and lost for the season. For the season, there have been 303 guesses, 220 wins, 61 losses and 22 ties, for a season's record of .762.

Following are the correct scores, followed by the guesses:
McGregor 14, State Home 0; State Home 13-0, Corsicana 19, Tyler 0.

Corsicana 13-0, Abilene 7-0.

Fort Worth Central 21, Oak Cliff (Dallas) 7; Oak Cliff 13-7, Austin 21, El Paso (Austin) 0; Austin 21-0, Harlingen 32, Corpus Christi 0; Corpus Christi 7-0, Beaumont 13, John Reagan (Houston) 12; Beaumont 7-6, Greenville 20, Sherman 0; Greenville 13-10.

George Pryor, starting end of the Tigers, was loud in his praise of the sportsmanship of the Tyler Lions Saturday night, remarking on the fine manner on and off the field exhibited by the victors. He was especially pleased that two Tyler players picked up Robert Wilson who he was hurt and walked him about the field.

The Corsicana Tigers and managers were guests of the High School Athletic Council at a turkey dinner at the Navarro Hotel Sunday noon.

Tulane, outstanding team in the South, turned back Washington State 28-13, in their intercollegiate game Saturday, and earned the right to meet Southern California in the Tournament of Roses, New Year's Day.

Corsicana Y. M. C. A. will sponsor its annual invitation tournament Friday and Saturday of this week. A large entry of teams from Navarro county schools is expected.

Austin will be here Saturday for the quarter-finals tilt with the Batting Bengals. Austin is a running back who is one of the outstanding half-backs of the state. He is "Pee Wee" Beard.

The managers of the City League, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. met Thursday night and voted to extend an invitation to the Collins Street Bakery to fill the berth left vacant by the Corsicana Cotton Mill basketball team withdrawing. Braun's Market was not accepted as a six team circuit was preferable.

Eligibility of the players was discussed and accepted. In order to play a player must be an employee of the organization with which he is playing, the player must be on the regular pay roll at least once each week; the player must have been in the employment at least three weeks before permitted to play; there shall be no transfers; and a player is not permitted to represent any other team in the city of Corsicana.

The entrance fee was set at fifty cents per player. This fee will cover the playing ball and eight individual awards to the winning team. Colors for the teams were selected as Southern Ice, orange, Collins Street Bakery, white, Southern Ice, blue, Moss House, red, K. Wolens, green, and DeMolay's purple.

Schedule for the first half:
DeMolay vs. So. Pacific, Dec. 10, 6 p. m.

Odd Fellows Hundred Pounds S w a m p Junior High Midgits

The Junior high school team, champion of the city school football teams weighing less than 100 pounds, which was sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., was defeated by the Odd Fellows Home team of the same weight by a score of 42 to 0 Thursday afternoon on the I. O. O. F. Home school gridiron.

The Odd Fellows recently defeated the Lee school by 89 to 0, which indicates that the I. O. O. F. Home will have a real football team a few years from now.

Austin Contest With Tigers Be Here Saturday

Arrangements were completed Saturday afternoon between representatives of the Austin and Corsicana High schools that will result in the quarter-final contest between the Maroons and Tigers being played on Tiger field next Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Austin was represented in the negotiations by Coach Bonnie Strickland, G. H. Wells, high school principal, and J. H. Nash, member of the athletic council. Corsicana representatives included Beauford H. Jester, chairman of athletic council; W. P. McCammon, president of the athletic council; and Principal W. H. Norwood; Coaches John A. Pierce and Jake Henna.

It is believed that the tarpaulin borrowed from Texas A. & M. College will be retained during the week to insure a dry field for the game.

Tickets for the game will be 50 cents for students and $1 for adults.

PROPOSENTS OIL TARIFF LINE UP FOR HARD BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(P)—Optimistic over their chances of success, senate proponents of an oil tariff are lining up for a vigorous fray at this session.

In an alliance with representatives of copper states, they hope to gain the margin of victory necessary to take oil from the free list and bring it under duty schedules.

Senator Thomas, the Oklahoma democrat who waged unsuccessfully last year an arduous campaign for a tariff, is again at work, with other oil states' legislators.

Senators Sheppard and Connally, Texas democrats, are ready to vote aye on any sound oil tariff measures. Shortridge, the California republican, already has a bill, but in an instance costly fumbles nullified his maneuvers.

Over in the house, Oklahoma democrats are to meet today to take up the petroleum tariff. Kansas and Texas democrats are expected to join them on the floor in putting through a levy upon petroleum.

Meanwhile, the Independent Petroleum Producers Association, through Russell Brown, secretary, is busy about the capitol, lining up supporters. Wirt Franklin, the president, who lives in Tulsa and is a member of the executive committee, is expected to arrive tomorrow to take over direction of the fray.

Hope For Aid.
From the ranks of senatorial advocates of the petroleum tariff, there came the expression of hope for aid from copper-state senators, such as Wheeler and Walsh of Montana and Ashurst and Hayden of Arizona, giving oil legislation a distinctly democratic flavor.

Oil state leaders said the copper representatives were against an oil tariff session, but believed an alliance would insure success of measures for a levy on both petroleum and copper.

Senator Thomas, outlining what he expected to be a tentative draft of the oil move sponsored by the independent producers, said it called for a virtual embargo at the outset, then a graduated

COSTLY FUMBLES AIDED DOWNFALL OF STATE HOME

LADDIES FOUGHT STUB-BORNLY IN FACE OF
COSTLY BREAKS

By CHARLTON GUNTER
Sun Sports Staff.

Three fatal fumbles inside their opponent's ten-yard stripe that killed their scoring possibilities tells the tale of the first conference defeat of the 1931 season for the State Home Lads at the hands of the McGregor Bulldogs Friday afternoon on the home field before several hundred avid football fans. The score was 14-0 in favor of the visitors when the final whistle blew.

In one division of the game alone were the lads the equals of their opponent in the grid and fight they displayed from start to finish in the face of break after break against them. But they fought from the first to the last in the face of heavy odds, and their play was marked at all times by clean sportsmanship. The play by both teams was unusually free of major penalties.

Bulldogs Meet Rockwall.
With the defeat Friday the Lads were eliminated from the championship race, and McGregor accepted the right to meet the Rockwall high school for the title in this section of the state. It was the second time that the Bulldogs have defeated the Lads in the bi-district competition, the score on the previous occasion being 7-6 in a contest played in McGregor.

McGregor has a real football machine, which features three players in the backfield, and a powerful plunging fullback that would be a credit to many college teams. They held a considerable weight advantage over the lighter State Home aggressors. Coach L. E. Brown was canny enough to utilize it throughout the game.

Another feature of the contest was the fact that Coach Carol Wood of McGregor used but twelve men in the contest, making a substitution until Wells, the quarterback, was injured in the final period. Coach LeRoy Crabtree made several substitutions in an effort to find a smooth, effective combination, but in an instance costly fumbles nullified his maneuvers.

scale of rates to permit ultimate lifting of tariff protection was no longer needed.

Brown said a measure was being given serious consideration by the Producers' Association, but that he, personally, favored a flat levy of $1 a barrel and a 50 percent ad valorem tax on refined oil products.

Over in the house, Oklahoma democrats are to meet today to take up the petroleum tariff. Kansas and Texas democrats are expected to join them on the floor in putting through a levy upon petroleum.

Meanwhile, the Independent Petroleum Producers Association, through Russell Brown, secretary, is busy about the capitol, lining up supporters. LONG EYELASHES

There are all sorts of ways of adding length to your eyelashes, three of which I would particularly recommend. The first is to make them acquire real length by treating them with a lotion to make them grow. Almost any nourishing oil will do—almond oil or olive oil being recommended. Or a good thick nourishing skin food will do the trick, particularly one that contains lanoline. If thick personally that a 25 cent tube of lanoline is a very good investment, a little of this should be rubbed on the eyelashes every night at bedtime. It would be nice if you could use hair tonic, but you can't for most of the things that make the hair grow would get into the eyes and make them smart unbearably. But next three months, and I think you'll be pleased with the improvement in your eyelashes.

Add Length to Your Eyelashes

Besides this, there are two ways of making length to the eyelashes. One is to use the black eyelash cream, that I have often spoken of, made with white vaseline and soot. You can make this by holding a candle under a piece of glass until you've got a nice little pile of soot on it. Scrape this off with a spoon and keep on smoking up the glass until you've got a tablespoonful of soot. Mix enough white vaseline with the soot to make a stiff paste, keep this paste in a tiny jar, and when you want to use it lift a little bit out with the flat end of an orangewood stick. Rub it between your thumb and forefinger and spread it gently along the tips of the eyelashes. This gives them color to their full length, that is, it gives you the complete value of each eyelash. Usually there is quite a bit at the end of each eyelash that does not show at all, because the color does not run down to the end. The other method is to use mascara and put it on with a brush. This thickens and darkens the hair, but must be carefully removed at night as it is rather drying.

LEXINGTON BANK ROBBERY SOLVED BY RANGER HAMER

FORMER CASHIER AND THREE ASSOCIATES ARE CHARGED WITH CRIME

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—(P)—Robbery of the Lexington (Lee county) State bank last February had been solved today by Captain Frank Hamer of the Texas rangers, who charged four men with the offense.

Milton McGregor, former cashier of the bank, and William Dungan, Louis Grant and Earl Riggs were charged with the robbery.

The loot was $10,383.33, of which $550 was in Liberty bonds. The bonds were turned in a tourist camp near Temple, three of the men, who gave Captain Hamer statements, said. The currency, silver and gold was divided among the quartette.

When Captain Hamer learned one of the men had kept the attention of the little town's night watchman occupied while the robbery was in progress by feigning his automobile had stalled, he sought to arrest him as "the weakest" of the offenders.

"I knew he was the weakest because they gave him the weakest job when they planned the robbery," he said. "Sure enough, when I got my hands on him I found he was a ready talker, finally giving me the information I sought."

The men were residents of Lexington at the time of the robbery, but recently all except Riggs had gone elsewhere. McGregor was arrested in Houston, Dungan in Brenham, and Grant in San Marcos.

Captain Hamer said Jim Scarborough, former sheriff of Lee county, had worked on the case incessantly since the robbery and gave him much of the credit for bringing about arrests of the offenders.

SECURES HARMONY MOSLEM CONFERENCE BY A COMPROMISE

JERUSALEM, Dec. 7.—(P)—Shaukat Ali, Indian Moslem leader, succeeded in bringing harmony into the negotiations of the Moslem conference here today by a compromise, according to which opponents of the Grand Mufti agreed not to criticize the congress in their newspapers and to support its resolutions if they regard them as beneficial to their cause.

They continued, however, to refuse to participate in the conference itself.

Shaukat and Dr. Abd El Hamid, an Egyptian delegate, issued a manifesto intended to justify the attitude of the opposition.

The Grand Mufti, in an interview, said the decisions of the international commission regarding the Wailing Wall would be discussed as well as the control of the Iddjaz railway by Moslems, the defense of Moslem shrines in Palestine, propagation of Islam and the establishment of a Moslem university here.

The conference originally was planned as a "conference of kings" on a scale greater than that of Biblical times. It had been expected that a dozen crown potentates and a score of ruling princes would gather to discuss the matter of selecting a caliph.

Most of the original program subsequently was revised. The kings did not come and there were assurances from several sources that the issue of the caliphate would not be raised.

Prince Ehdel Mejid, former caliph, was mentioned as the most likely candidate for the caliphate, a titular spiritual head of the Mohammedan world.

BLUEBEARD FACES TRIAL FOR MURDER WOMAN HE WOODED

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 7.—(P)—The stage of Mock house saw the commencement today on a drama in real life greater than the make believe—the trial of Harry P. Powers for the murder of the woman he wooed through the mails.

Clarksbury's court house being torn down and a new building under construction made necessary the unique change of venue.

Assignment of a company of state troopers and 16 policemen to the courtroom was made to prevent any demonstration or disorder. Eight state policemen were detailed to take powers to his place beside his counsel, J. Ed Law.

The portly, middle-aged specialty salesman who is accused of killing Mrs. Dorothy Lemke in the subterranean chambers of his peculiarly constructed garage, was meticulous about his appearance.

His "court room" outfit was a newly pressed blue serge suit, black Oxfords, white shirt and a black and white tie. He wore a pair of tortoise shell glasses which gave him the look of a student.

Twenty-five farmers, small town business men are on the jury panel. Women are not eligible in West Virginia.

Twelve hundred men, women and children packed the opera house as the selection of a jury began. Hundreds of the curious mining folk had waited in line outside the opera house for hours only to find the demand for seats greater than the supply. They remained milling about outside, as the light-flooded stage, complete with a border of paper mache trees and a street scene back drop became the setting.

An hour after the questioning of the talesmen began, five of the panel had been excused for saving convictions that powers was guilty.

Preparations made start work paving highway at once

Laying of pipelines has been started by the P. P. McElwath Construction company on the north two miles of the approximately four miles of 20-foot pavement on highway 75 south of Corsicana and in the event weather conditions permit, it is expected the work of paving this two miles on the north half of the four miles will get under way this week.

When the north two miles of pavement is completed, it will give traffic an outlet to the pavement from a point two miles north of Corsicana to Ennis to Ellis county.

Traffic south has pavement by coming through Corsicana and using the South Fifteenth street extension pavement that connects with highway 75 south of Corsicana.

Wortham Highway Paving Will Start At An Early Date

WORTHAM, Dec. 7.—(Spl.)—Hon. W. J. Bryant, mayor of Wortham received message from the state highway department Saturday that work will begin at once on the three miles of Wortham pavement, connecting the strip with Navarro county line on the north and Limestone county line on the south. The mayor was also advised in the message that the pavement would be completed by the time the pavement to Richmond was completed. All kinds of repairs were made to get out of Wortham during the recent bad roads, and the dirt road to the north was almost the only outlet for the town via automobile traffic.

Advertising Dollar For Next Year Will Bring Fine Results

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(P)—The board of directors of the Advertising Federation of America announced today that a national survey it has conducted indicates the 1932 advertising dollar will bring better results than at any time during the past two years.

Gilbert T. Hodges, president of the organization, said the survey shows a growing confidence in 1932 merchandising possibilities.

His report added that greatly improved credit conditions and the beginning of commodity price recovery are reflected in an "improved general morale."

"Check-up of 102 large companies showed that those firms which increased their advertising in 1930 over 1929 made a 58 per cent better profit comparison than those who decreased it," the report states. "Those same firms increased their lead still further in 1931."

Wealthy Detroit Man Guarded After Threats Are Made

DETROIT, Dec. 7.—(P)—William T. Weiland, chief of the Grosse Pointe village police, said today that officers have been assigned to guard the five children of Harold Palmer, wealthy real estate operator, and other members of the Palmer family as a result of threats against the children.

Guards were stationed at the Palmer home in University Place after two shots were fired into the Palmer automobile Saturday just after the children had alighted from the car. The shots were fired from a small automobile which raced past on Jefferson avenue, Benjamin Bennett, chauffeur of the Palmer car, said.

Several letters have been received at the Palmer home which led the parents to believe that the lives of their children were in danger. Members of the Palmer family have refused to discuss the case.

Palmer is the adopted son of the late Thomas W. Palmer, United States senator and minister to Spain. The Palmer children are Thomas, Mary, Winifred, Walter and Harold, Jr.

NEWSIE'S REVENGE RESULTS IN DEATH ONE YOUTH SUNDAY

BOY ACCUSED OF "PICKIN' ON SMALLER BOYS DIES OF RIFLE WOUND

DETROIT, Dec. 7.—(P)—A group of newboys plotted revenge in their Haywood clubhouse yesterday on 15-year-old Joe Przytas, who had been accused of "pickin' on little kids," and a few hours later "Little Joe" was killed by a rifle bullet.

Stanley Orlenowski, 14, president of the organization known as the "Floyd Club," admitted to police he fired the shot but insisted he meant only to frighten Joe.

He said he had borrowed the rifle as he, Joseph Sawiski, 14, and Anthony Mazur, 14, members in good standing, were on the way to carry out the club's verdict that "Little Joe" should be taught a lesson.

The three boys and Longin Jendrynski, 11, who had accused Joe of "pickin' on him" were held in the juvenile detention home last night.

County Prosecutor Harry S. Toy said he would ask that they be required to face charges in criminal court.

Joe was an honor student in intermediate school. He sold papers outside school hours and, except for a small pension, provided the two sisters.

MORE SOLDIERS NEEDED DECREASE UNEMPLOYMENT

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 7.—(P)—An appeal for full American naval strength under terms of the London treaty and an increase in the standing army as means toward unemployment relief has been voiced by Henry L. Stevens, Jr., of North Carolina, national commander of the American Legion.

Speaking at a conference of Louisiana legion officials here yesterday, he said: "The regular army is down to a point where they are simply a bunch of technicians, army college professors, who, in the case of emergency, would become the instructors and commanders of an army that would be formed when such an emergency arrives."

He criticized sharply what he termed "false economy in the matter of our national defense," mentioning the Manchurian trouble and declaring "thoughts are running through the minds of the people of maybe two or three nations which are not altogether flattering to the people of the United States."
